
Welcoming Practices: Creating Schools that Support Students and Families in Transition offers a model for ways that school staff can proactively make students transitions easier.